

PVC FLOORING WELDING GUN WIN 1600E

PRODUCT INFORMATION

PVC Flooring Welding Gun WIN 1600E

It is a new generation of hot air welding gun with affordable price and lightweight appearance. And it also has the advantages of double insulation, double overheating protection, constant temperature control, continuous temperature adjustment, and has undergone strict dynamic balance testing. It is a manual hot air tool very suitable for using on the construction site. It can be used for overlapping welding of geo membranes, tarpaulins, roofing membranes, and also for rapid welding of plastic pipes, plastic floors, and automobile bumpers.

Small orders accepted.

To meet small batch customized services.

Welding nozzles of different sizes and specifications such as 90° right-angle welding nozzles, 120° welding nozzles, triangular and round quick welding nozzles, can be freely purchased with air guns To meet the voltage requirements of 120V and 230V different countries and EU standard, US standard, UK standard plug requirements.

The key to our success is “Good Product Excellent, Reasonable Rate and Efficient Service”.

ADVANTAGES

Heating Elements

Imported Heating wire, high temperature resistant ceramics and silver-plated terminals are selected. Which can work continuously for a long time in high temperature environment.

Dynamic Balance

All the welding guns have undergone dynamic balance test to ensure the smooth air flow and no vibration in the process of use.

Temperature Adjustable

The temperature can be adjusted freely between 20-620 which is safe and reliable.

Handle

Ergonomically designed, convenient to hold, more comfortable to use for a long time, and effectively improve construction efficiency.

Welding Nozzle

A variety of stainless-steel welding nozzles can be freely selected according to the application requirements.
